Violence in all its forms affects many women and girls in Eastern Europe and Central Asia.

1 in 4 women experienced physical or sexual violence from a current or former partner.

1 in 2 women killed are murdered by an intimate partner or family member.

1 in 15 women experienced sexual violence from a non-partner.

The consequences of violence against women and girls are far-reaching:
- Long-term medical conditions: anxiety and depression, reproductive health problems
- Increased risk of poverty, lower productivity, lost employment opportunities
- Social isolation, stigmatization

Public services for survivors and perpetrators of gender-based violence are still not fully developed in Eastern Europe and Central Asia.

Specialized services for victims/survivors:
- Crisis support, counselling, trauma coping support
- Referral to other institutions/specialized services
- Long-term sheltering
- Short-term sheltering
- Outreach
- Advocacy for victims/survivors' rights at other institutions
- Information and support through hotlines/helplines

Specialized services for perpetrators:
- Psychological counselling
- Psychiatric evaluation
- Legal counseling
- Social rehabilitation and reinsertion
- Facilitation of access to services for addictions
- Outreach
